

Renewable Connections COVID-19 Policy

An important part of our approach at Renewable Connections is to engage effectively with the local communities and stakeholders who provide valuable feedback during the development of our solar projects. As the UK eases restrictions related to COVID-19 we continue to adhere to Government advice and do everything we can to manage risks appropriately.

Going forward we anticipate utilising a mix of online, virtual and in person channels to engage with our stakeholders. This policy will be reviewed continually in line with Government guidance, and we will continue to make decisions to do our utmost to protect our colleagues and stakeholders. This may mean we minimise the number, proximity and duration of social contacts if required in future.

Having used virtual forms of consultation throughout the COVID-19 pandemic we have experienced high levels of engagement, including from those who do not have access to internet facilities, as we have provided alternative means to participate in community consultations, for example via telephone and post.

We thank you for your patience and understanding. Please do not hesitate to get in touch by emailing enquiries@renewableconnections.co.uk if there is anything we can assist you with.
